May 5 - 6, 2017 Conference in Montreat

An exciting look at the Reformation and its lasting impact on today's society, church and government will be the focus of the Reformation 500: A National Conference in Montreat on May 5 - 6, 2017, organized and sponsored by the Presbyterian Heritage Center.

Celebrating the 500th anniversary of the Protestant Reformation, this conference offers outstanding speakers and panelists covering such topics as:

- ★ Pre-Reformation: The Beginning (The 150 Years before 1517), from Wycliffe, Lollards, Hus to Luther
- ★ The Reformation: First 50 Years (1517 - 1567) from Luther to Calvin to Knox to the Counter-Reformation
- ★ The Reformation: Conflict & Chaos (1568 - 1685)
- ★ The Reformation Comes To America (1620 - 1760)
- ★ Music of the Reformation
- ★ How to Bring the Reformation Alive in your church's Bible study, Sunday School classes, youth groups;
- ★ The Reformation's Impact on Families & Worship

The conference will cover the heritage of the Reformation, but most importantly, will provide music directors and choir members, Christian educators and Sunday School attendees, preachers and congregants with a deeper insight into the most significant event in the past millennium!

Among the nationally known speakers will be:

Dr. Stephen Crocco, director of the Yale Divinity Library, Yale University, and author;

Dr. John D. Woodbridge, author of the recent Church History: Pre-Reformation to the Present Day and professor of Church History & History of Christian Thought, Trinity International University;

Dr. Elsie Anne McKee, professor of Reformation Studies & the History of Worship, Princeton Theological Seminary, and author;
